

Office Policies and General Information Agreement for Counseling Services

Welcome to Scottsdale Bible Church Counseling Center (SBCCC). This is a church-based ministry that provides licensed professional, lay, intern/practicum, and group counseling. SBCCC is a no-fee, short-term (8-10 sessions), biblical counseling facility. Counselees seen here will be considered "counselees of the agency." We offer counseling to individuals seeking a biblical perspective on the issues of life. We require anyone receiving counseling from SBCCC to read and sign this informed consent. Finally, you have a right to obtain a copy of this form.

Our Intake counselor will do the initial assessment, and will, as appropriate, then assign you to a Stephen Minister, Lay Counselor, Intern/Practicum student, volunteer professional counselor, licensed professional staff counselor, Counseling Group lead by professional staff counselor, SBCCC Growth/Support Group or professional counselor in the community. Our Staff Counselors are licensed with Master's degrees. SBC has provided counseling services for over 25 years.

Confidentiality.

All information disclosed within sessions and the written records pertaining to those sessions are confidential and may not be revealed to anyone without your written permission, except where disclosure is required by law. Most of the provisions explaining when the law requires disclosure were described to you in the notice of privacy practices that you received with this form.

When Disclosure is Required by Law.

Some of the circumstances where disclosure is required by the law are: where there is a reasonable suspicion of: (1) child, dependent, or elder abuse or neglect; (2) and where a Counselee presents a danger to self, to others, to property; (3) or is gravely disabled (for more details see also notice of privacy practices form).

When Disclosure May Be Required.

Disclosure may be required pursuant to a legal proceeding. If you place your mental status at issue in litigation initiated by you, the defendant may have the right to obtain the Counseling records and/or testimony by your counselor. In couple and family counseling, or when different family members are seen individually, confidentiality and privilege do not apply between the couple or among family members. Your counselor will use clinical judgment when revealing such information. Your counselor will not release records to any outside party unless so authorized to do so by all adult family members who were part of the treatment.

Emergencies.

If there is an emergency during our work together, or in the future after termination, where your counselor becomes concerned about your personal safety, the possibility of you injuring someone else, or about you receiving proper psychiatric care, s/he will do whatever s/he can within the limits of the law to prevent you from injuring yourself or others and to ensure that you receive the proper medical care. For this purpose, s/he may also contact the police, hospital, or the person whose name you have provided on the biographical sheet.

Confidentiality of E-mail, Cell Phone, and Fax Communication.

It is important to be aware that e-mail and any cell phone or cordless phone communication, including text messaging, can be rather easily accessed by unauthorized people and, hence, the privacy and confidentiality of such communication can be easily compromised. E-mails, in particular, are vulnerable to such unauthorized access because servers have unlimited and direct access to all e-mails passing through them. Faxes can be sent erroneously to the wrong address. Please notify your counselor at the beginning of treatment if you decide to avoid or limit in any way the use of any or all of the above-mentioned communication devices. While reasonable backup, security, and other safeguards are in place, there is always some risk of inadvertent disclosure of information that comes with using these tools. By signing this informed consent, you agree to accept the risk of disclosure that comes with the use of these tools. Please do not use e-mail or fax in emergency situations.

Litigation Limitation.

Due to the nature of the Counseling process and the fact that it often involves making a full disclosure with regard to many matters that may be of a confidential nature, it is agreed that should there be legal proceedings (such as, but not limited to, divorce and custody disputes, injuries, lawsuits, etc.), neither you, your attorney, nor anyone else acting on your behalf will call on your counselor to testify in court or at any other proceeding, nor will a disclosure of the Counseling records be requested. We do not offer custody, psychiatric, or psychological evaluations.

In addition, you, the counselee sought biblical counseling as such adhered to by Scottsdale Bible Church, a non-profit religious organization. You, as the Counselee hereby acknowledges your understanding of the following condition and further releases from liability Scottsdale Bible Church, its agents or employees, from any claim arising from the undersigned participation in the above mentioned biblical counseling program, the same being identified as follows:

The Process of Counseling/Evaluation.

We believe that a strong relationship with Jesus Christ facilitates a person leading a healthy, productive life. Our own belief in Jesus Christ is the overriding influence of our counseling ministry. It is not essential that you share your counselor's Christian beliefs, but you have the right to know that their value assumptions are rooted in their faith in Christ and influenced by their experiences. In addition, the Scriptures will be your counselor's source of truth and s/he will help you seek Biblical solutions. You are free to discuss this with them at any time. Furthermore, goal-oriented brief counseling is provided by lay counselors and staff counselors. Stephen Ministers provide process-oriented care giving.

Your emotional, physical, and spiritual wellbeing are of utmost importance to the SBCCC. Participation in Counseling can result in a number of benefits to you, including improving interpersonal relationships and resolution of the specific concerns that led you to seek Counseling. Working toward these benefits, however, requires effort on your part. Counseling requires your very active involvement, honesty, and openness in order to change your thoughts, feelings, and/or behavior. During evaluation or Counseling, remembering or talking about unpleasant events, feelings, or thoughts can result in your experiencing considerable discomfort or strong negative feelings. This is uncomfortable, but a natural part of the Counseling process and often provides the basis for positive change and personal decisions. Sometimes a decision that is positive for one family member is viewed quite negatively by another family member. Change will sometimes be easy and swift, but more often it will be slow and even frustrating. There is no guarantee that Counseling will yield positive or intended results. A variety of Counseling approaches may be helpful for you. However, you have a right to participate in treatment decisions and in the development and periodic review and revision of your treatment plan. You also have the right to refuse any recommended treatment or to withdraw informed consent to treatment. You and your Counselor need to discuss the potential consequences of such refusal or withdrawal. Feel free to discuss at any time the treatment goals, procedures, or your impressions of the services that are being provided.

Cancellation.

Since scheduling of an appointment involves the reservation of time specifically for you, a minimum of 24 hours notice is required for rescheduling or canceling an appointment. There is no child or pet care available during your scheduled appointment times.
